

I am strongly in favor of full interoperability of VRS equipment. Not requiring it, flies in the face of the needs of all VRS users who want a maximized universe of potential communications with others. The restriction of one significant supplier of VRS equipment is a huge impediment to the real benefit of VRS for all users. Please read the Coalition's comments and take appropriate steps to require interoperability.